Additional Council Bluffs news on the seventh page.

Saturday, March 5th, will be the last day at the Publisher's book sale. Great bargains will be given at the Publisher's book sale all this week. Whipple, charged with forging or altering railway tickets, was yesterday re-leased on bail. Squire's park addition is a sure investment. Pacific avenue will be built up with store buildings within a year.

E. H. Odell positively refuses to have his name considered for aldermanic honors, and hence his enthusiastic friends had to quit. The city council will postpone the further consideration of the important matters pending before it until the regular meeting next Monday night. J. W. Patton, who has been with Spet-man & Bro., has now entered the employ of Harkness Bros, where he would be pleased to meet his old friends and pat-

The board of health is preparing to adopt certain rules in regard to the prevention of contagious diseases. It is proposed to have cards posted on houses where there is scarlet fever or diphtheria, make proper quarantine regulations and compel physicians to report promptly all such cases which they are treating.

The city has no volume of ordinances to which an official can refer. There is a scrap book in the clerk's office, but this is a puzzler to the uninitiated. Whenever an official, even the judge, wants to know what the law is he is obliged to have a hunt, and cannot then be certain that he has found all on the subject. The laws of the city are blind enough at the best, but in their scattered and conflicting condition they are almost worse than none.
The council has given to Judge Aylesworth and City Attorney Holmes the contract for codifying and arranging the ordinances. It is expected that in a short time the city will have an ordinance book by which easy reference can be made and the contents of which can be relied upon.

THE LAST DAY OF REGISTRY,

The Republican Caucuses Last Night -Lectures and Entertainments . -Brief Bits of News.

The Democratic Convention. The city democratic convention met vesterday afternoon, G. A. Holmes called to order, and was speedily made chairman by motion of F. H. Guanella.

C. M. Maynard was chosen secretary. The committee on credentials reported the list of delegates already published, as chosen at the primaries. The first business of the convention was the nomination of an aiderman at large. Judge James named John P. Weaver. Mr. De Haven named Lucius Wells. George Blaxsim presented the name of A. T. Elwell. Mr. Beck informed the convention that 31r. Elwell would not have his name considered at all. L. Kinnehan urged the name of G. S. Lawson.

An informal ballot was taken result-

A. C. Grahan Brooks Reed r. A. Churchill .... J. C. Dellaven moved to make the nomination of Lucius Wells unanimous.

Judge James objected, as he thought it was giving too many aldermen to the Second ward. A formal ballot was taken with the following result: Lawson ......10 Wells..........

Judge James moved that the nomination be made unanimous, and this was carried with applause.
The nomination of candidates for school directors came next. Robert Rain, G. S. Lawson, J. C. De Haven, J. J. Sul-livan, E. E. Aylesworth, were named. The informal ballot stood:

sullivan. The final ballot stood: Sullivan..... Rain

Messrs. Rain and Lawson were declared nominated for the long term and Mr. DeHaven to fill the short term. G. A. Holmes was re-elected as chairman of the city committee and the convention adjourned.

WELLS WILL ACCEPT. He Will be the Nomince of Both

Parties. The democratic nomination of Lucius Wells for alderman at large was not really a party nomination. It is one which meets the hearty approval of many republicans as well. An attempt was made on the part of citizens irrespective of party to get Mr. Wells to allow his name to be used for mayoralty honors some time ago, but he absolutely refused to allow such use of his name. It was rumored yesterday that he would as absolutely decline to accept a nomina-tion as alderman. As is generally known he has his time fully occupied, and his strength drawn on almost to the limit with his private business, the active management of the affair of Deere, Wells & Co., of this city, necessitating constant attention. At the present time there seems special need for just such a man in the council. With property and personal interests in different parts of the city, he can hardly be claimed by any particular section. His well known business ability, his activity in furthering the interests of the city so far as in his power lies, are ap-preciated, and now the demand for just such a man is so great that the citizens will hardly listen to any refusal. It was insisted that he make the personal sacri-fice required. He was not made aware of his nomination until after office hours yesterday, and was taken so by surprise. after having declined to have his name considered, that he could hardly de-cide whether to continue in his absolute refusal to serve the people or not. The sentiment among republicans was so warmly expressed last evening, and there was so much enthusiastic endorse-ment of the nomination, that he could not very well be obstinate in his refusal. He therefore concluded to accept, and this announcement will be a welcome one to the readers of the BEE this morn-ing. He will be elected without opposition. The republican convention to day will endorse the nomination, and the citwill endorse the homination, and the citizens will give him a practically unanimous vote. Mr. Wells has never been a partisan, and is a broad, liberal minded man, especially in local politics. In national matters he is democratic, and stoutly so, but does not go about push-ing his opinions into the face of every passer by. At the same time he is not a wishy-washy man by any means. He is quick in reaching a decision, and free in expressing his convictions. The people are to be congratulated, rather than Mr. Wells, on his nomination.

George Metcalf and Chris Straub For Aldermen. The republicans held their ward meet ings last night. In the First and Second wards delegates were selected for the city convention to be held Thursday. In the Third and Fourth wards there were aldermen also nominated. The following were selected as delegates: R. T. Bryant, W. H. Lynchard, John Hammer, F. M. Williams, M. W. Clark, L. Sherwood, Joseph Cromer. As committeeman for the coming year Joseph Cromer was chosen.

The delegates elected were: J. F. Evans, F. H. Hill, D. W. Archer, Sol Foster, Leonard Everett, D. Maltby, Phil Armour, T. S. Couch, D. B. Daily, Charles B. Waite. George Metcelf was nominated unanimously by acclamation for alderman for the Fourth ward. This choice will review many authorises and for alderman for the Fourth ward. This choice will rouse much enthusiasm, and if he will accept the people will stand by him. He is energetic—just the kind of material now needed in the council—and should be seated by an overwhelming majority, despite the fact that it is a democratic ward and a strong democrat in the field against him. On motion of E. L. Shugart the delegates to the city convention were instructed to use their endeavors to secure an endorseuse their endeavors to secure an endorse-ment of the nomination of Lucius Wells for alderman at large. THE BRIDGE BILL.

it Passes the House and Now the Work Will Proceed. About 9 o'clock last evening the following telegram was received: WASHINGTON, March 1.—T. J. Evans: Our bridge bill has just passed the house. W. F. SAPP.

About the same time Mr. J. T. Stewart received a telegram to the same effect from Congressman Lyman. The news spread quickly about the city and there was much rejoicing. While there had been no opposition manifest against the charter for the wagon bridge at the foot of Broadway, still there was some anxiety lest in the crowd of business this bill might not get through. Congressman Lyman was doing his best to secure its passage through the house, to secure its passage through the house, it having already passed the senate. Ex-Congressman Sapp hurried on to Washington, sacrificing personal interests in doing so, in order to help what he could The glad news shows how well these representatives of Council Bluffs worked for its interests. The passage of the bit insures the speedy starting up of the netual work. Mr. Evans assures the Bee that the building of the bridge will commence at once, and that the enterprise is now as sure as the rising of the sun. Council Bluffs people have been a little nervous, perhaps unnecessarily, fearing there might be some delay, but now the last doubt is gone, and the boom will
